Trends: Stumpage prices increased for most products in the 1st quarter of 2019. Strong prices remained in both red and white oak sawlogs, with AR running well above the SE average The extreme wet conditions increased demand for most products, having positive impacts on stumpage prices. However, the ability to harvest many sites was limited. Housing starts saw some setbacks this quarter with a downward trend nationally of 8% percent from the previous year. Log and lumber exports were also down from previous year, something to keep an eye on with hardwood sawlog prices.
