

INVESTIGATING LEAF

Combine science skills and writing skills with the leaf record sheet on the following page.

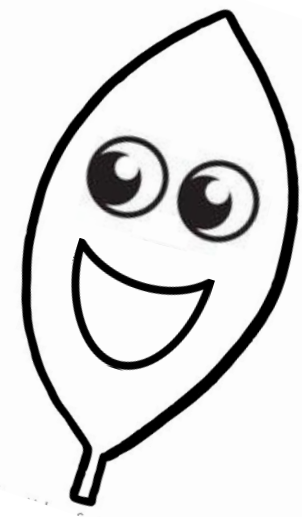

Take a trip outside to gather leaves or gather a variety of fall leaves and place them in a container before hand (in that case, have a child choose a leaf from the container when you are ready to do the activity).

With help, the children glue their leaf to the paper, circle the word to identify its size, colors the boxes to identify the different colors on the leaf, and then dictates information to complete the sentence starter at the bottom.
